Urban Appalachian Project

Sr High Mission Trip

Missionaries travel all over the world, but did you know that they're needed right here in the United States too? The people of Appalachia need the hope of Christ and the transformation that can come only from God. Together with other church groups, we will have the opportunity to serve the people and community of Bluefield, WV.

What will we be doing?

During the day, we will be at local homes doing various work projects that may include: painting, cleaning, minor repairs, small carpentry projects, etc. Mid- afternoon groups will leave the worksite and spend the rest of the day assisting ministries in the community of Bluefield. One of those ministries is the summer day camp the Wade Center runs for children in the community. Groups working with the day camp children can expect to spend time each afternoon playing games, singing songs, giving piggy back rides, etc. Other ministries that you may be assisting each afternoon include: local nursing homes, food banks, clothing shelters, etc.

Location and Cost

Urban Appalachian Project is a ministry of the Wade Center—a community outreach center in Bluefield, WV (southern WV). We will be staying at the Wade Center with other church groups from around the country. The cost is $360 ($100 NON-REFUNDABLE deposit is required to hold your spot). This includes meals, transportation, housing, and a t-shirt. Please make checks payable to First EPC. The deadline to turn in the registration form AND non-refundable deposit is May 16.

*We will have several fundraisers to help lower the cost. Check the website (www.firstepc.org) or contact Jonathan Whitley for more information (833-5225).
